Hanlon said last night that Brooklyn's pennant chances rest largely on McGinnity's ability to keep up his phenomenal work and that the "Iron Man," win or lose, will receive a liberal gift from the club at the end The Chicagos again defeated the New York tail-enders and also passed the Bostons who were outplayed by the St. Louis team. The latter drew away from the Cin-

THE RECORD. BROOKLYN, 7; CINCINNATI, 2-FIRST GAME.

Three thousand persons turned out to see the double-header between the Brooklyns and the Cincinnatis at Washington Park yesand the cham-terday and were well satisfied when the Chamterday and were well satisfied when the Champions scored two victories. The Brooklyns played something like their beet game and hit the bail in a way that showed there is still hit the bail in a way that showed there is still plenty of vigor in their make-up. Manager Hanlon put Weyhing in to pitch in the first same. The veteran was in fine trim and with game. The veteran was in fine trim and with the veteran was in fine trim and with support behind him he came near the Reds As it was the Ohio crowd tarm until the eighth inning when the is held the game safe. Newton not made poorly but he had schoolboy the Cheimatts plling up nine scorable in the second inning McBride, the irrightfielder, in trying to catch a from Mcdnire's bat, ran into the picket of was carried from the field. His sinjured and a shake-up in the Cincinstria ourse necessary.

Brooklyns finally pounding last half of the sixth inning, would probably base saw contest, the Brooklyns finally pounding out a victory in the last haif of the sixth inning out a victory in the last haif of the sixth inning out a victory in the last haif of the sixth inning But the Champions would probably have been beaten if doe Mctinnity had not taken Kitsons place in the box during the fifth inning son's place in the box during the fifth inning. So that had been the fifth the fifth the fifth for the first three fitth began the Brooklyns had the score 6 to 1. Then Scott began for the Reds with a scratch hit to baly and Kitson hit Barrett with the ball, hit to baly and Kitson hit Barrett with the ball, hit to baly and Kitson his Barrett with the ball, hit to baly and Kitson his Barrett with the ball, hit to baly and Kitson his Barrett with the ball, hit to bally and Kitson his box of the rows in the air Steinfeldt, Beckley and Corcoran followed with base hits in rapid succession and the score was tied. McGinnity then volunteered to relieve Kitson and as he did so the crowd stood up and cheered the 'Iron Man' to the echo. Quinn knocked out another safe hit and Corcoran's run put the Reds in the lead But McGinnity's great speed and curves quickly retired the side after that, Scott winding up with three strikes on three pitched balls. In the last haif the Brooklyns regained the lead with two runs due to Kelley's double, Cross's bunt and two errors by Beckley.

The Reds forged ahead again in the sixth with two runs yielded by three safe hits and a wild throw by Cross. The Champions, however, piled up five runs in their turn and reassumed the lead which proved to be too great an obstacle to overcome. With one out, Keeley's got four balls and Sheckard hit the top of the right field fence for a three-bagger. The later scored on Kelley's roller to Quinn, and

He mentioned Latham, but Hanlon would not consent, saying that he had no fault to find with Snyder's work. Snyder then refused to umpire the second game, so Latham of the Cincinnatis and Jennings of the Brooklyns were closen to officiate. They both took turns calling balls and strikes and were scrupilously fair. In the fifth inning when Latham called a Brooklyn player safe at the plate he was surrounded by his team mates, Peitz, Corcoran, Beckley, Scott, Irwin and Quinn, most of whom shook their fists in his face or grabbed hold of his uniform. Some of them also called Latham some hard names and stogether made things decidedly unpleasant

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN-Sir: Why is ball games are not started earlier in this city? Durball games are not started earlier in this city? During the past few days no less than three contests have been called on account of darkness, and that, too, at a time when they were the most interesting—tie. Are not patrons entitled to see a game flashed? They pay for that privilege and should have it. I can imagine the feelings of a baseball manager were he to go to a theatre and it should be shut down at one of the most exciting points. Let us have an earlier start at this season of the year by all means.

An interesting game is promised for Saturday afternoon on the Orange Oval when the Orange Athletics and the Irvington A. C., play off their tie game.

ROCHESTER. Sept. 13. - Umpire Rinn's work was unsatisfactory to both teams in to day's game here, and at the close of the contest a crowd rushed for him at the gate and he was roughly handled until rescued by two of the Rochester club owners.

GOLF.

Progress of Events at Tuxedo-Happenings

Elsewhere.
There was another delightful time at the Tuxedo Club yesterday when the golfers met for the match play rounds that were to start the folks off in earnest. The surprise of the day was the lowering of the amateur record of the course to 75 by E. M. Byers of Yale. When at New Haven Vardon, in an interview, picked out Byers as the finest golfer that there was in the college town. The best cards yesterday follow:

The match play results:

SURPRISE IN THE WILLOW

THE FILLY STARES AT GRAVESEND CAPTURED BY AN OUTSIDER. Spencer Is Unexpectedly Beaten on the Post

With Noonday and Janice Takes the Plum -Potente Wins the Speculation Stakes -Owners Wreck the Last Race of the Day.

A fine racing card furnished lively sport for 4,000 patrons of the Brooklyn Jockey Club at Gravesend yesterday. Two standard stake events and a handicap over hurdles were the features and the sixth race on the card promised to rival the specialties in interest until owners wrecked it by taking out all but two horses. The weather again favored the outing and first choices crossed the plate three imes, with more encouragement than profit to the regulars.

The Willow Stakes for two-year-old fillies brought out a smart field of seven with Noonday a pronounced favorite over Sweet Lav-ender. Littlefield got off badly with the Goldfinch filly and Lady Schorr took up the pacemaking with Noonday in close attendance. Coming through the homestretch Spencer forged ahead with the Keene filly, but grew overconfident as he looked around at his field and apparently figured that he had all beaten. His filly was tiring fast and he settled down to nurse her home when Turner closed like a to nurse her home when Turner closed like a whiriwind on Janice and won the race by a head. Noonday, Trigger and Elizabeth M. followed at one length intervals. A protest lodged by Spencer against the winner was overruled and the stewards confirmed the judges placing. Janice closed at 25 to 1 with few backers even at that tempting price.

The general impression seemed to be that Spencer had been caught napping, but he more than redeemed himself in the Speculation Stakes which followed. This was an event with selling conditions, for three-year-olds and upward and when weak-kneed owners got through with the blue pencil, seven runners were left. The talent decided to give another chance to Spencer and plunged on his mount, Potente. Peaceful and Andronicus were next in demand, but the others were not friendless. W. C. Daly's outsider, Alsike, was full of run for a quarter when he gave way to King Barley-corn. Spencer moved up quietly with Potente on the home turn and after securing an apparently safe lead, set fled down for another "Noonday" sleep. McCue joillied old Kinnikinic into trying at the last furlong pole, but made such a racket about it that Spencer woke up and won out in a drive by a length. Peaceful ran a respectable third for Shaw.

A hurdle handleap with fourteen acceptors came first on the card and Klondyke was installed favorite at 13 to 5, with Challenser, Draughtsman and Mazo also well supported. The chapter of accidents was singularly brief in view of the big field and the untried quality of most of the competitors. Volceo bolted at three obstacles and then flatly refused to go on. The other outsider, Cephalaigia, fell when the pace began to get warm and Draughtsman while running strongly for a share of the money got rid of Brazil at the last obstacle. Unfortunately for the bettors, Nuto as a jumper was an unknown quantity and 15 to 1 or better could be had against his chances in the ring. He fenced like a deer all the way and won easily by four lengths from Mazo who beat the favorite a similar di whiriwind on Janice and won the race by a head. Noonday, Trigger and Elizabeth M

Jockey Burns Says He Will Ride for W. C.

Whitney Next Year. CRICAGO, Sept. 13.-Tommy Burns, the noted Western lightweight jockey, who is under contract to J.W. Schorr of Memphis, telegraphed to his friend and former manager, C. R. Ellison, to-day that he intends to sign a contract with W. C. Whitney for next year. The consideration is said to be $12,000 a year. Burns's contract with J.W. Schorr expires on Dec. 31. It was a two-year contract at $8,000 a year, and it cost two-year contract at $8,000 a year, and it cost Burns $3,000 to secure his release from a contract made between E. W. Simms and the boy's parents without his consent. At that time Burns was a minor, but he has now reached his majority. Last winter Burns refused to ride Sly when ordered to do so by the judges at the Oakland track and he was suspended. Later the ruling was changed so as to permit him to ride Schort's horses. The Western ruling was not recognized by the Jockey Club and Burns has been riding for any one he wished since he west East at the close of the Washington Park meeting. Fatal Accident During Gravesend Morning

The checkered career of an old-time jockey ended abruptly at Gravesend yesterday morning during the exercise hours. The riger was John Stoval and while working out a horse, the animal rolled over him. Stoval was killed instantly and as he left no friends in this vicinity the jockey club will probably take charge of the burial. Stoval was a noted finisher in races over a decade ago, but fell from grace and gradually retrograded to the position in which he lost his life.

An unusual group in front of the grand stand at Gravesend yesterday was Trainer James Rowe, one of his former employers. W. P. Thompson, and one of his present employers, Foxnali P. Keene. Mr. Thompson is rarely seen at a track nowadays and his advent stirred up a rumor that he still hankers for the glory he and his brother and Trainer Rowe achieved to past classics.

In past classics.

Plungers who stayed away from Gravesend yesterday will scarcely regret having missed the second race. The entry of old Songster was sent out as that of "Songstress" and form students promptly looked elsewhere. Had the overnight list been correct the result could not have been worse as Songster started sore and pulled up lame after whipping in the field pratically all the way.

ENTRIES FOR A. A. U. CHAMPIONSHIPS. Star Athletes Will Compete at Columbia Field for National Honors To-morrow.

Entries for the annual championship games of the A. A. U. have closed and the names submitted indicate first-class sport at Columbia Field to-morrow when the men will struggle for junior and senior national honors. The junior championships which have filled well are announced for the first time, and the caliber of the men entered may be judged by the fact that in many instances they will essay the defeat of the A. Football Notes.

The Seton Hall College team has a few dates open on the football schedule and would like to hear from college trams and schools having first-class elevens. Address Edward F. Quirk. Seton Hall College, South Orange, N. J. Orange, N. J.

CARLISLE, Sept. 13.—George Pedlow, the new captain of the Dickinson College football team, has arrived, and preliminary practice began yesterday in carnest. The prospects for a strong team are brighter than ever. Two new and texperienced men who were not expected will try for positions. They are Watts, who had a fine record at Cornell, and Towble, who comes from Huntingdon Seminary. Both are big men and will likely strengthen the team.

THE ABBOT WITHIN A HALF SECOND OF LOWERING WORLD'S TROTTING MARK. Little Horse From Buffalo Goes a Mile in

King of Geldings-Anaconda Leads in Fast Pace-Martha Falls Dead in a Race. Alix, 2:03%, trotting queen, came within half a second of being dethroned by the Viliage Farm's gelding. The Abbot, at the Empire City track yesterday afternoon. The great son of Chimes nipped three-quarters of a second from the geiding record, 2:04%, held by himself and Ayote, and had he gone half a second faster he would have lowered the world's trotting record by one quarter of a second. Driver Geers watched the weather closely all afternoon. He told Supt. Trainer that the track was all right for the attempt, but he appeared anxious about the wind. After the first heat in the free-for-all pacing race the flags on the grand stand were hanging limp and Geers told Starter

Coleman that he would make a start at the finish of the second heat. When The Abbot was jogged up the track, the crowd of about 5,000 persons cheered enthusiastically. On the second score down Geers nodded for the word, and the gelding was started on the journey which will go down in turf history as one of the greatest miles ever trotted. Geers rated him to the quarter in 0:321/2, and many lost hope of his being able to beat his record. The speed was increased going through the back stretch to the half, which he reached in 1:02%, making the second quarter in 0:29%, which proved to be the fastest quarter of the mile. He trotted as steadily and smoothly as a finely adjusted piece of machinery. He reached the three-quarter pole in 132%, making the third quarter in 30% seconds. As he turned into the stretch the crowd in the grand stand stood up as one person and shouted in excitement.

chinery. He reached the three-quarter pote in 1.32%, making the third quarter in 30% seconds. As he turned into the stretch the crowd in the grand stand stood up as one person and shouted in excitement.

He made a magnificent picture as he came down to the wire. Men on the sward in front of the st nd threw their hats in the air and shouted: "Come on, my Geets, come on, my Abbot!" Within 100 yards of the wire Geers waved his whip over the gelding's back, and aithough he appeared to waver a trifle he gamely stuck to his work and finished in 2.04, the last quarter in 31% seconds. The crowd yelled itself hoarse and the more excitable horsemen hugged each other. Geers was overwhelmed with congratulations, and it was some time before he could free himself from those who crowded about him. C. J. Hamilin, owner of the gelding, wore a broad sinise of satisfaction and shook hands with many. It is possible that The Abbot will be sent to beat 2.04 tomorrow if the conditions are favorable.

Three well-known Macs drove three noted pacers in the free-for-all race, in one of the greatest contests of the season. They were McHenry, McClary and McCarthy, who drove Anaconda, Prince Alert and Indiana. The speculators fairly poured money into the auction pools and the bookmakers. Before the first heat $100 was paid for Anaconda to $70 for Prince Alert and $40 for Indiana. Anaconda went to the quarter in 0:30, when McClary began to shake up Prince Alert. The latter took the pole soing through the backstretch. He led by a scant half length at the half which the official timers caught in 1:00. Several experts who stood under the wire half a length in the lead, Indiana being three lengths back.

Prince Alert was made favorite before the horses were called out for the second heat. Some of the plungers laid $1,000 to $600 on the Crown Prince gelding against the field, and in the auction pools were sold at $75 for Prince Alert to $50 for the field as fast as the clerks could write the tickets. Anaconda and he all the prince Alert was made nce in Grand Circuit company by wining t heat of the 2:18 trot after a hard drive with DeWitt C. Flanagan's Martha. He was favorite with the speculators for the second heat, and looked like a winner. The little mare led to looked like a winner. The little mare led to the head of the stretch where she began to wobble and finally left her feet. Half way down to the gate she fell. Demarest jumped over the fence to save himself. Ticchurst with Rival and Bowne with Lady Norvetta, were quick to see that something was wrong with the mare and barely saved going over her by pulling out. The mare broke a blood vessel and was probably dead before she struck the ground. Demarest said he heard her making a peculiar groaning sound as he entered the stretch and concluded to let her go to a break to get her wind. She caught her stride nicely and then fell. Owner Flanagan hurried up the track.

Owner Flanagan hurried up the track, and when he saw the dead mare tears rolled down cheeks "Poor old girl," he said, "that is the only way Martha was his favorite, having been pre-ented to him by his father three years ago, she was by Sample, dam by Whiripool, and her est time was made in her heat yesterday best time was made in her heat yesterday 2:124.

Maid Thorne captured the second heat after a close drive to the wire with Leonard Bel, and Lady Norvetta had to do some trotting to land the next three heats in hard finishes.

For the second heat in the wagon race Hontas Crooke was 2 to 5 in the books, and Quadriga and Silvermaker 3 to 1. Hontas took the lead at the start and kept it all the way. Quadriga made a good race to the half and then fell back. The pacer Free Bond, 2vs, hitched to wagon, was driven by his owner, Mr. Miller, a half mile in 1:004, with a runner for pacemaker. After the performance the horse was sold to C. K. G. YANKEE'S PROTEST SUSTAINED.

Decided Against the Mineola. It was reported yesterday that the Regatta Committee of the Newport Yacht Racing As-Committee of the Newport Yacht Racing Association had decided the protests that were made by the Mineola and Yankee in the last race salled off Newport and had given the race to the Yankee, disqualifying the Mineola. This decision will give the $1,000 cup for which the yachts were racing to the Yankee. If this report is correct the big trophles for which the yachts have raced this year have been well divided. The Mineola won the Astor cup, the Yankee won the Newport series cup and the Rainbow won the Lipton cup. The Rainbow also won the Commodore's cup salled for on the first day of the New York Yacht Club cruise and the Mineola won the Glen Cove cup sailed for in June.

NEWPORT, Sept. 13.-There was a sweepstake race this afternoon between the so-footers which was won by the Wa Wa, sailed by Reginald Brooks with Mrs. Herman B. Duryea on board. There were four boats in the race and they sailed over the Dyers Island course, the wind being from the southwest and quite strong. The Wa Wa led from the start. It was a run out and a beat back. Summary:

Of course you don't need a Winter Overcoat these days, but investments here just now will pay rich dividends with the first north wind's coming.
